UNFRIENDLY AND HOSTILE. FORCIBLE DECLARATIONS AGAINST BAR-

Any Invasion of Nicaragua or Costa Rica by Guntemalan Forces Ought to Be Treated as Unfriendly and Hostile Interference With the Rights of the United States.

In the executive session of the Sepate yesterday the injunction of secrecy was removed from the following resolution and agreed to by the Senate on Tuesday Whereas the Senate of the United States has learned that the government of the republic of Guatemala has set on foot, or threatens to set on foot, an invasion of the territories of the republics of Nicaragua, Costa Rica, and San Saivador, with the professed object of con-vador, with the prolessed object of con-solidating into one government the re-publics of Central America by force of arms and against the wishes of the several republics concerned; and Whereas there is pending between the United States and the republic of Nicara-gua a treaty providing for the construc-tion of an interoceanic canal seroes the tion of an interoceanic canal across the continent and in the republic of Nicara-gua, for the general benefit of all the Cen-tral American republics as well as the United States, which treaty, it is under-stood, the republic of Nicaragua has rati-fied. Egyptian Financial Ourstion Settled, London, March 18.—The Right Hon. Hugh Childers, chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons this afternoon unfolded the Childers, chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons this afternoon unfolded the Egyptian financial agreement which was aigued recently in London by the representatives of the powers concerned. The agreement, he said, guaranteed a loan of $45,000,000 to be used in lifting the Egyptian debt. The guarantee of this loan by the other powers does not however, confer any right upon any one of them to interfere with England's Internal administration of Egyptian affairs. The loan is to be liquidated by the repayment of the sum of $1,575,000 annually, and that sum is to constitute the first charge against the Egyptian revenues until the entire loan is lifted. The normal annual expenses of the Egyptian revenues until the entire loan is lifted. The normal annual expenses of the Egyptian revenues until the entire loan is lifted. The normal annual expenses of the Egyptian government are Based by the agreement at the gross sum of $25,185,000. This includes $1,000,000 to defray the cost of maintaining the army of occupation. The agreement provides for the extension of taxation to all foreigners resident in Egypt. It also arranges for an exhaustive investigation into the revenue examins capacity of Egypt.

A provision for the free navigation of the Successinal is mentioned in the agreement as a master that will be dealt with in the forthcoming canal conference at Paris. The clause referring to the taxation of foreigners in Egypt was received with cheers. After he had finished his revealation of the terms of the agreement Mr. Childers, in answer to questions, stated with the greement would not be allowed to exceed 35 per cent. New Orleans, March 18.—The immigration convention.

New Orleans, March 18.—The immigration convention held a final meeting to-day in Music Hall, President A. J. McWhitter, presiding. In regard to the amalgamation of the Southern Immigration society of America and the southern and wessern bureau of New Orleans, a resolution was adopted merging the two associations in one, to be known as the Southern Immigration Society, and including California in its territory. In conformity with the new order, suitable changes were made in the by-laws relating to the board of directors. It was provided that the board should consist of twenty-seven members, chosen as follows: A director from each state represented in the association, the presidents of the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce, the Cotton Exchange, the Produce Exchange, the Sugar Exchange, and the Maritime Association, and the rest to be elected at Southern Immigration Convention.

eight Republicans away, and he was not sure they would be back to-morrow in time to vote. The Democrats have made the assertion that a senator would be elected to-morrow, but it is not thought probable by the Republicans.

CHICAGO, March 18.—The Tribuse this morning professes to have authentic information to the effect that on the first day when nearly a full Democratic vote is present sand some Republicans absent, Mr. Haines, as speaker, is to direct his large force of sergeants-at-arms to close the doors of the house; then the relicali for Senator will proceed. The Republicans in attendance will refrain from yoting, believing their failure to yote will make them, under parliamentary rules, absontees. Mr. Haines, however, will direct a count to be made and verified of those actually present in the flesh as the joint session. He will then order the roll called again. Perhaps minety odd democrats will vote for Morrison, and the eighty or less republicans actually present will not vote. Haines will then say: "The count of the legislature in joint session shows there are present say 160 members (or 104), being more than the quorum required by the United States statute, and of that number site majority having voted for William R. Morrison, I declare him duly elected," &c.

The Tribune asserts that the Republicans, being forewarned, will refrain from ontering the legislative chamber. The Tribune asserts that this pisn was blocked out in the interest of Morrison by certain Democratic parliamentarians during his recent visit to Washington.

VIENNA, March 18.-A disgraceful scene oc curred during the session of the Austrian cham-ber of representatives to-day. Two deputies, one of whom is a Pole and the other a Gerone of whom is a Fole and the other a Ger-man, became engaged in an angry debate, during which insulting personalities were bandied back and forth. The speciators in the galleries freely cheered the disputants ac-cording to their respective sympathies. At last the Pole advanced to where the tierman stood and threatened to thrash him. At this the Polish element in the galleries raised a tunnil of applause. The floor of the chamber was a chaos of excited deputies, all angrily shouting and shaking their fists. The presi-dent was powerless to preserve even a sem-dent was powerless to preserve even a semshouting and shaking and the sem-lent was powerless to preserve even a sem-blance of order. At last the original disputants were separated by their friends, and the ses-tion was hastily adjourned.

A Frightful Tragedy in Ireland track of the Cork and Bandon railway has been solved by the police. It appears that four men, who had been celebrating St. Patrick's day at Cork, started to walk bonne along the line of the Bandon railway. They were all drunk, and a quarrel occurred. The men fought desperately with knives, and two of them were killed. The survivors were badly cut, but managed to drag the two dead bodies onto the railway track, so that they might be run over by a train and the evidence of the fight, in which all had been engaged, destroyed. The two survivors have been arrested.

THE NEWEST NOMINEES.

A BATCH OF SURPRISES SENT TO THE SENATE FOR ACTION.

Who the Lucky Men Are-Several Who Never Applied for Place-Caritale Placated by a Kentucky Selection Disgusted Candidates Talk About Their Bevenge.

The nominations by the President yesterday were a general surprise to every one, and the charge made some time ago that the administration is being run in the interest of a clique was repeated many times. "It is plain that the President is not regarding the justice of the claims of certain states for recognition." said a man who wants a foreign mission, "and all his appointments so far have been personal ones. Here he appoints a man from Pennsylvania to be first as-sistant postmaster general. Blaine's ma-jority in that state was 80,000, and In-diana, which whosled into the Democratic column, which whosted into the Domocratic column, has received nothing as yet. There is some show for Iswa now, and her claims are more just than than those of Pennsylvania, for Blaine's majority in Iswa was only 19,000. I majority in Iowa was only 19,000. I wonder if Cleveland knows how he was elected or if he cares. There's one mad man who will get a chance to strike at the administration and who will do it. I won't mention his name, but he is quite prominent in the south. He was promised a cabinet position and did not get it. He will be in congress again before long, and get appointed chairman of the committee having charge of the department he wanted, and then he will have a chance to get square.

he wanted, and then he will have a chance to get square.

"Then there's another, and, in fact, there are a great many of them, too nu-merous to mention. They sil want gore, and they are going to have it, and quick Mr. Malcolm Hay, who was nominated as that."

Mr. Malcolm Hay, who was nominated for first assistant postmaster general by the President yesterday, is a warm personal friend of the latter, and owes his appointment to this fact. It was charged by the friends of Measrs. Money and Bell that Representative Randall had a hand in the appointment, but this is said not to be so, Mr. Randall's only connection with the nomination of Mr. Hay being to tell President Cleveland when questioned by the latter as to Mr. Hay's ability that he was a good man for the place. The President has known Mr. Hay for a long time, and shortly after his inauguration wrote to him offering him the position. The friends of Mr. Italian the position of the latter has been treated outrageously. They will not forgot his slight they declare, and if a chance offer itself will strike back.

The nomination of Milton G. Durham to be first comptroller of the treasury is regarded as a recognition of the claims of Kentucky or, rather, of Mr. Carlisle, although it is said that the latterdid not recommend Mr. Durham. Carlisle has been sulking for some days, and refused to make further requests of Mr. Cleveland. The latter did not like the attitude taken by Carlisle after the defeat of Phil Thompson, sind his action in appointing Durham is regarded as an attempt to bridge the guilf that exists between Randall and Carlisle. On the other hand it is asserted that the President appointed Mr. Insubam to carna different products by

He was strongly indersed for the posi-tion to which he has been appointed by ex-Secretary Benjamin H. Bristow.

Malcolm Hay is a prominent lawyer of Pittaburg, Pa., and is 41 years of age. He was born in Philadelphia, studied law with Chief Justice Beasley, of New Jersey, and was admitted to the bar in Pittaburg in 1864. He was a member of the last constitutional convention of Ponnalization and for a number of years have lylvania, and for a number of years has been prominently identified with the Democratic party in his state, having been a delegate to the last three Democratic national conventions, and chairman of the committee on resolutions in the con-vention of last year. He supported Tiltice in Lansing, Mich., and has had some little experience in practice before the United States patent office in this city. He is said to be a man of integrity and worth, and is about 45 years of age. The only public office he had held was that of member of the legislature of his state, although he declined a nomination for supreme court judge when it was equivalent to an election. His answer when offered the place by telegraph was: "I am a candidate for no office, but my services are at the command of President Cleveland."

THE FIRST COMPTROLLER.

Hon. Milton J. Durham was a member of the House of the Forty-third, Forty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Congresses. He served on the appropriation committee. He is a warm personal friend of Speaker Carlisle and probably owes his appointment to that fact. While in Congress Mr. Durham gained the name of "Marshai" Durham by regularly introducing at the opening of each session a bill providing for the payment of the United States marshals by fixed salaries instead of by the fee system.

SECRETS OF THE SENATE.

Rousing Rumpus Respecting the Surreptitious Publication of Confidential Documents.

The selons of the Senate have lately been trying to find out how certain cunning correspondents of newspapers captured a few of the treaties which had been guarded from the vulgar gaze of the public by the stringent rules governing execuby the stringent rules governing executive sessions. The zeal of the secret sessionists was heightened yeaterday morning by the publication in The Republication of Secretary Bayard and the diplomatic correspondence relative to the Barrios usurpation. These decuments were carefully handled, and it was supposed that there was no possibility of a "leak." But, lo! There were the documents in public newspapers! That was adding insult to injury, because each day doors, had also been obtained by futerprising newspaper men. Those little leakages had provoked the solons, but the big one irritated them very much. And so they said in plain terms in yesterday's secret session.

An old stager of the press remarked last night that he had heard an unique suggestion by a sort o' ubiquitous senator, that they were trying to find some means by which the contraband matters of the Senate can be protected, but, added the senator, it would be better to refrain from traducing or suspecting ourselves or our clerks when there are three or four other sources from which these mat-ters may be obtained.

REMOVAL NOT RESIGNATION. A Slight Mistake Made by the Administration in Changing Bureau

When the President sent in the name of Dr. Miller to be commissioner of internal revenue, the nomination read, "to succeed Walter Evans, resigned," but the renomination sent in Tuesday was "to occed Walter Evans, removed." Evans said yesterday that he had not only not resigned, but had never a word Manning, the formers are: "I have rereceived your letter of this date, in which you state that, by direction of the Presidont, I am informed that my resignation' as commissioner of internal revonue "is accented," to take effect upon the qualdont, I am informed that my resigna-tion's a commissioner of internal revenue 'is accepted,' to take effect upon the qual-ification of my successor. It is said that the action of the President in putting Mesers. Evans and Clarke on record as resigning was under the assumption that both placed their resignations at the disposal of the heads of the departments. This was held as sufficient to warrant notification to the Secrate of the resignations in pominating Senate of the resignations in nominating the new officials, as Secretaries Lamar the new officials, as Secretarios Lamar and Manning supposed that the formal resignations would be promptly tendered. The President, it is said, supposed that It would be more agreeable to the out-geing efficials to appear before the country as having resigned than to give public notice of their removal, and hence the country were made out in that the nominations were made out in that

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS CABINET AT

Departments-Red Cloud Still After Refillycuddy's Scalp-Minor Appointments Made

The President was 48 years old yesterday and he received many congratulations and good wishes. Secretary Lamont was the first to remind him of the fact, for the President had almost forgotten it in the midst of the rush and worry. He received quite a number of callers in the cast room, which was still handsomely decorated from the reception of Tuesday night, and all wished him many happy birthdays. No proparation had been made to celebrate the occasion, and the only demonstration on his part was the performance of an unusually large amount performance of an unusually large amount of work. In the morning the President received a beautiful bouquet of violets from a little girl. He received quite a number of caliers all day and gave audiences to several friends. Among the individual callers were Senators Harrison, Saulsbury, Voorliees, Cameron (Pa.), Mc-Pherson, and Sawell, Mr. William H. Vandarbill, Geo. D. Harreson, Garange H. Pherson, and Sewell: Mr. William H. Vanderbilt, Gea. Hancock, Gen. O. O. Howard and Gen. Whittlessy and Mr. Painter, of the Indian commission, Representatives Colt, Stevens, Greenloaf, and Lowry, Bradley T. Johnson, Representative King, of Louisiana; ex-Representative King, of Louisiana; ex-Representative Hunton, of Virginia; Chester Holcombe, secretary of the United States legation at Pokin; J. A. Bonitz, of North Carolins, and C. P. Kimball. A delegation from Virginia, including Representative Tucker and Hon. John Waniel, also had a short interview with the President. Secretary Lamar and Postmaster General Vilas also called during the afternoon. ing the afternoon.

A FIGHT IN COURT.

Mesers, Meloy and Fendall Have Fistienst and Are Fined.

Considerable excitement was occaioned in the equity court shortly after 12 o'clock yesterday by an unexpected and unfriendly meeting between two attorneys. The cause of Duvall against Mitchell was being heard, in which Mr. Wm. A. Meloy appeared for the beirs of Mary Duvail, deceased, and Mr. Reginald Fendali for Mr. John C. Harkness, who had a claim against the estate. After the hearing had progressed a short time Justice Hagner decided that the plead-ings must be amended. Mr. Meloy then addressed the court as to the method of proceeding further. Mr. Fendall replied and also stated that Mr. Meloy had a claim of $500 for fee in the case. MR. MELOV WALKED TOWARD ME. THE OBJECTIONABLE LANGUAGE.

Mr. Fendall took the record of the testimony and from it read that of Mr. Moloy, in which it was shewn that the gentleman had made a claim for the fee, and the record was then passed to the judge for his personal examination. He disclaimed any intestion of contempt, and regretted what had happened.

Judge Hagner said that Mr. Meloy, in his disclaimer, neglected to spotogize to the court for his action. He was the transgressor, and the language used was such as was liable to provoke any man, and if Mr. Festdall had waited a moment he would have compelled Mr. Meloy to applogize for the language used. Mr. Meloy then made another satement in answer to his testimony in the record. Judge Hagner fined each of them $100, and Mr. Meloy afterward apologized.
